

March 17, 1983 : Dr. Kenneth Hagin

And many who sit here, who sit here in this service tonight will go. They'll go to another place, to another land, and the same spirit will go with them, the same anointing, the same power of God and the same glory of God shall be in manifestation. Many shall look upon their face and say their face shines, for the glory of God shall shine through them, and the work shall be accomplished. Great shall be the rejoicing of the saints of God and great shall be the rejoicing in heaven, for there is more rejoicing in heaven over one sinner that repenteth than over 99 just persons; so there is rejoicing in heaven also. The family up there rejoices as well as the family does down here. So rejoice and be glad, and be glad that you live in this hour and in this day for great things are in the offering, and if it could be told you it would be difficult for you to believe it, but just believe it without having seen it, just believe it without having been told and be prepared and when you're told to go, go and I'll go with you saith the Lord and it shall be accomplished.

And men in dark places will break out in laughter, and women in pain and misery shall break out in laughter and little children starving to death shall break out in laughter for the glory of God shall shine upon them and provision shall be made for them and great shall be the work done in these last days, and it shall be done with greater power than it was done before, and it will be done quickly for the end of all things is at hand. Say it shall come to pass:

For all that heaven desires to do upon the earth, all that God desires to do for mankind upon the earth, upon this planet called earth will have to come to pass through His body which is the Church at work and you will have to say it for it is when men say what they believe in their heart, the reality of it in this realm. You see the reality of it all in the spirit realm is already there, it is already accomplished it is already done. God does not have to do, nor will He do one other thing, but when you speak it, you speak it into existence in this realm for it has existed in eternity in the other realm of the spirit it has existed from eternity, for even the plan of redemption has existed before the foundation of the world for remember in the Holy Word of God; that God sent His Son and He is as a Lamb slain before the foundation of the world and so in the spirit realm all things exist. They are and must come into manifestation in this realm for you must speak them into manifestation.

Great is our God, great is His mercy and great is His longsuffering and He desires to show it upon the earth and it is you that shall bring it to pass. It is in existence, it's always been in existence for God never changes. He's always the same. He desires the greatness of His mercy, the greatness of His longsuffering, the greatness of His patience shall be manifested upon the earth and it shall be the Church, the Body of Christ, which is you, so speak forth, sing forth, declare forth and praise forth and it shall come forth.

But there are things that shall come forth not just by you saying it, but will come forth by you by you praying it. There are other things that will come forth by you making intercession and as you enter into travail; You must give birth to it and as you enter in there are groanings, and there is pain, in giving birth, and anguish and there is effort and so it shall be that that effort and anguish and groaning shall not be put forth from the spirit realm that is initiated by the Spirit, but it shall be made manifest in the flesh. So yield yourself unto My Spirit saith the Lord of Hosts, and that that can be spoken into existence; speak into existence, and that you give birth unto that which can be given birth unto so that you bring to pass all that you need through intercessory prayer and soul travail.
